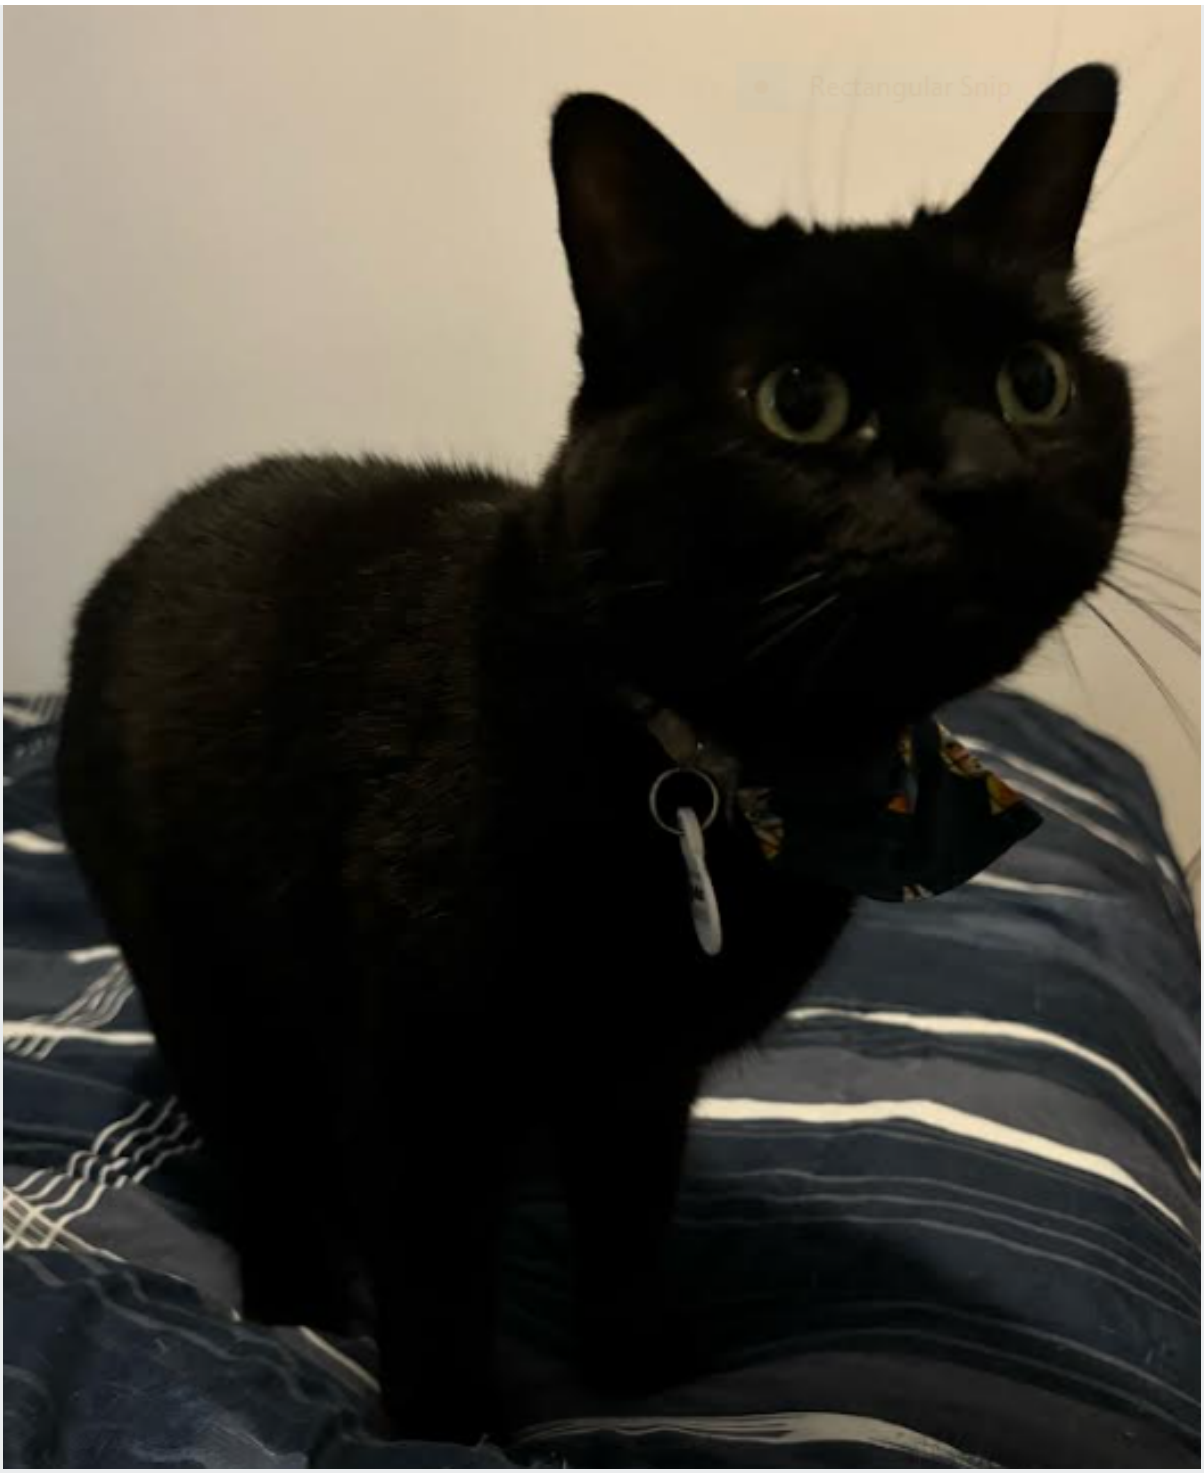
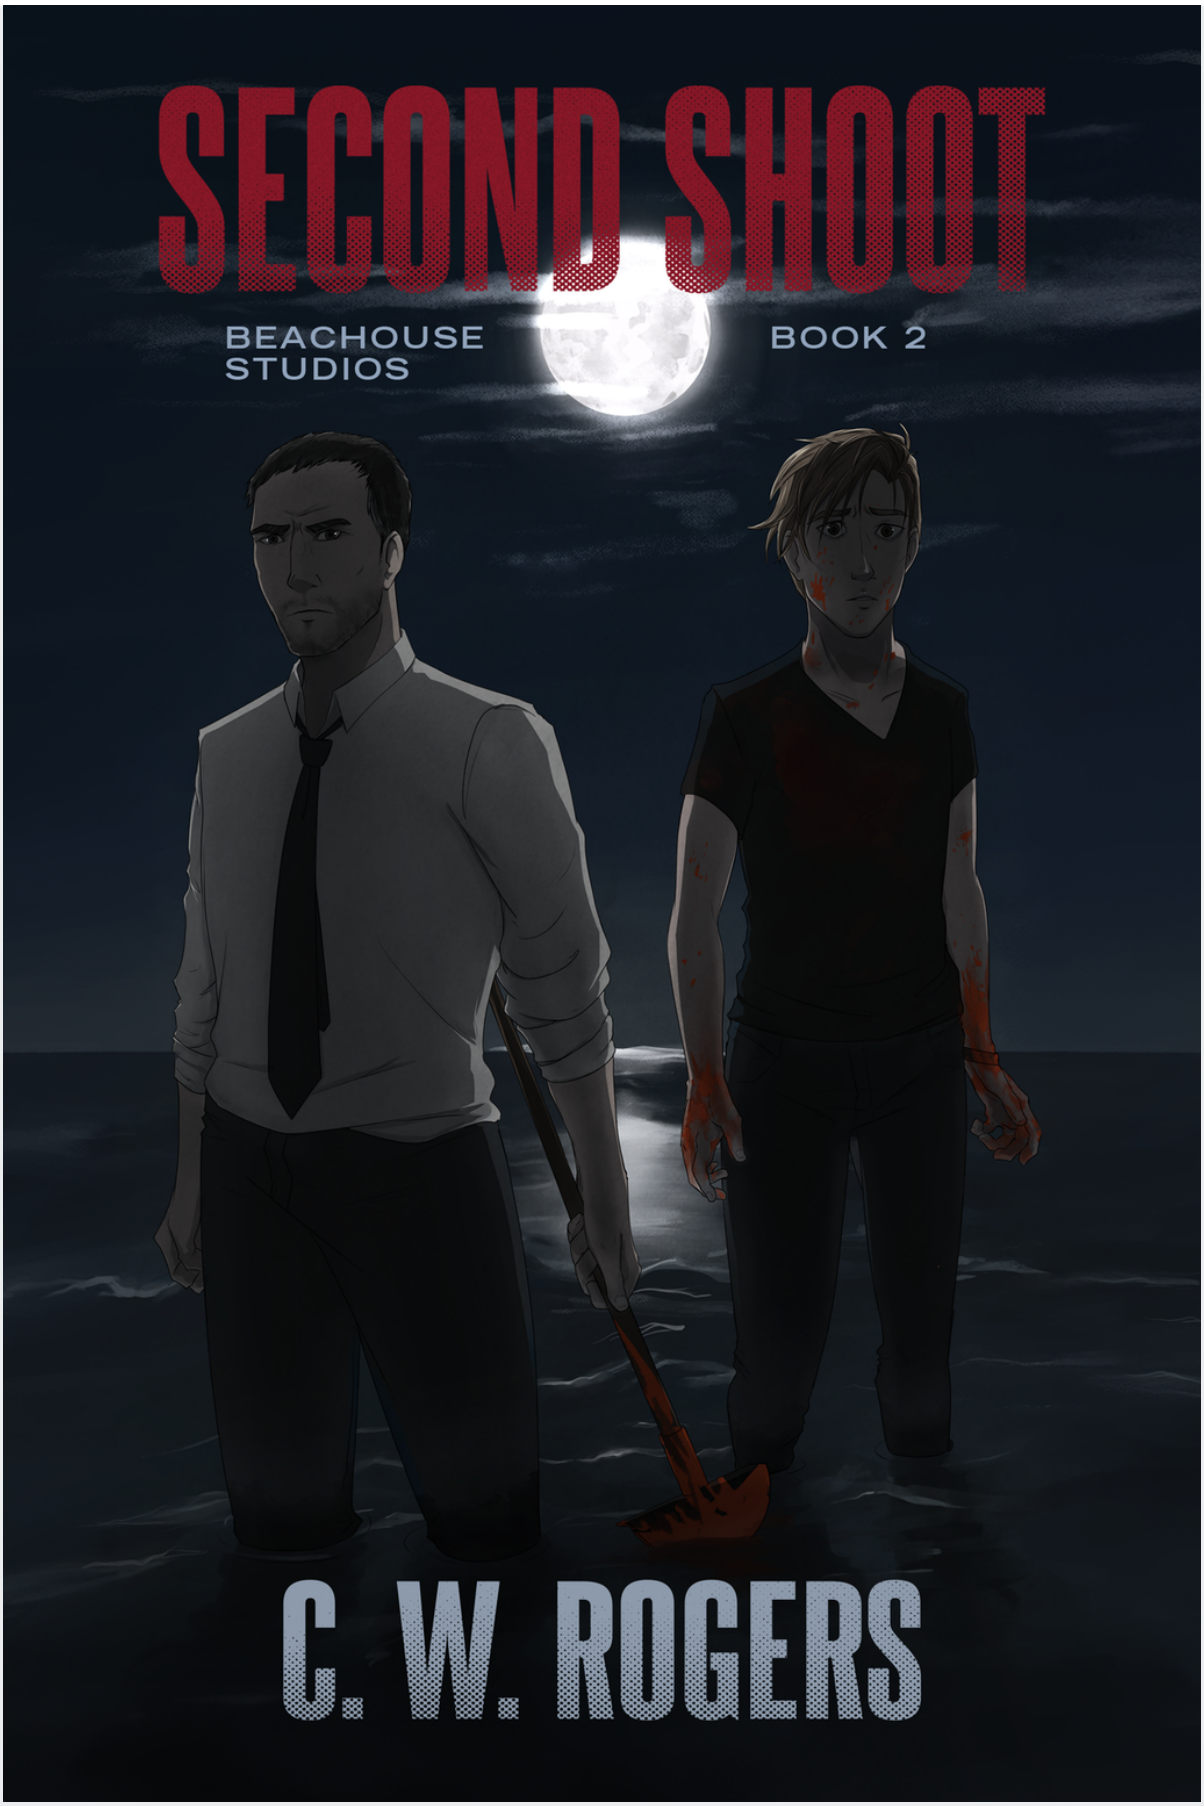
New Book release! Traveling! It'll be fun!

As you can see, Jonathan Harker-Murray, Esq. is unhappy with me. This is because I have been very busy and will remain so for the next month! There is not enough time to pet him, or give him attention, or feed him, or lavish him with praise - all things that cats require.



Action on the "Second Shoot"



Beachouse Studios' second outing, "Second Shoot", hit Amazon and Kindle Unlimited on August 3rd. If you haven't yet, you can purchase (or read with a subscription) the second installment of the Beachouse Studios series here.

Once you finish the book, you can also read a fantastic review at The Geeky Waffle here by my fellow FLAD cast member Hope! Yay for getting ARCs out in a reasonable timeframe this time!

Just because the second book has hit your tablet/phone, however, that doesn't mean I'm going to be slowing down. I'm busy editing Book 3, writing Book 4, and putting the pieces in order to start on Book 5. It's been a lot of fun to start seeing some of the setups start to pay off in big ways as the series starts its back half. One fun thing as a writer is getting to take all the bits and ideas I set up in the first three books and seeing how they all fall into place in the finale.

Honestly, I keep running back to my computer or phone every five minutes to jot down yet ANOTHER idea for the finale. It's a lot of fun to plan, and I'm excited to see what comes out in the writing process!

Book 5 is planned to be the conclusion of the main story of Beachouse Studios, but it won't quite be the end of the Beachouse Studios media. There will be a little more to flesh out the story fully before the next project! More to come on that later...

I Want To Be Done With The Bad Batch

Gold Squadron Gays has entered the home stretch with our "Bad Batch" coverage, with only two (!!) episodes remaining of the series and our recap to go. As much as I love the show, by the time I've been covering it for three months, I want to move on to something else. We won't be spending much time in the next few shows - "Tales of the Empire" and "The Acolyte" - because we also have plans for some exciting announcements in the back third of 2024.

On For Light And Dice, we're just trying to get to Jedha. We just... we want to get to Jedha. Please, dice. Let us get to Jedha. Please.

On To Atlanta!

The big event at the end of the month for me is attending Dragon Con in Atlanta at the end of the month. I'll be wandering around the convention off-and-on throughout the weekend. I'll report back next month with how it went!

Fan Expo at Denver was an incredible experience, and it's really continued to highlight my enjoyment of conventions. That might be relevant to a future newsletter... but as before, you'll have to stay tuned!

It's been a busy week leading up to the book release, and it's about to continue to be a busy month. I hope to have some fun stories from Atlanta for next month!
